

Final Presentation

Back from the Future We Want

Global Challenges & Sustainable Futures

CEMUS | Centre for Environment and Development Studies | Autumn 2015

*Welcome to the final presentations for the glimpses of regions around the world in 2100, and to hear the stories of how we got there. We are now ...
Back from the Future We Want.*

What does the “future you want” in your chosen region look like?
How did we get there?
What are your recommendations for the actors today?

Each group will have 15 minutes to present and share your group project, followed by a 5 minute Q&A and discussions.

Choose a way that you think would be the best way to present your project. A presentation using Powerpoint slides or Prezi is a good option, while other creative forms of presentation are also very much welcomed (e.g. role play, theater, etc.).

Since the schedule we have is very tight, we will be very strict with the timekeeping. Hence we encourage you to practice in your group beforehand to respect the given time.

Time & Date:

- December 8th, 17:15-20:00 @Norrlund Room, Geocentrum

Requirements:

- Present all 3 parts of the project (Part 1: Visions, Part 2: History & Transition, Part 3: Recommendations)
- Use visual aids (e.g. pictures, illustrations, etc.)
- All group members need to say something.

Note: If you are using slides, send the file to gcsf@csduppsala.uu.se by December 8th 4:00pm, or bring it on a USB stick and copy the file to the Course Coordinator’s computer before the session starts.

*A single idea from the human mind ... it can actually rewrite our future.
But an idea is powerless if it stays inside of you.
If you communicate an idea in a way that resonates, change can happen, and you can change the world.*
Nancy Duarte
(Inspirational TED Talk on Designing Transformative Presentations: <http://bit.ly/1WX9wUC>)

*Looking forward to your presentations!
Alejandro and Sachiko*