In 2014, Obama argued against military action to solve global conflicts. This meant that he advocated for non-violence approaches to cause change. However, he had said that President Bashar Assad, "must go," Again, if he believed in diplomacy as the best strategy for social change, it is hard to explain: One may argue that the conflicts in Iraq, Syria among others fit in a concept of use of force.

Voluntary poverty

"Voluntary poverty is a technical term used in Catholic Worker tradition. It means using and owning as little as possible. The sense of the word 'poverty' is that of having little or no wealth or possessions. It is distinct from destitution, which means having less than one needs, and from poverty that is not of one's choosing. Both the latter are regarded as evils by those who believe in voluntary poverty."

The article sums up the four top benefits from voluntary poverty as:

1. Economic equality
2. Solidarity
3. Sustainable living
4. Personal freedom

The First Farm Animal Sanctuary in Baltic states.

"Our mission is not only to give permanent home for rescued animals, but also educate the society: we encourage people to adopt an animal friendly diet and lifestyle. Visitors can get to know our animals, interact with them and get to know their personalities. They learn that each animal is to be respected and loved. Our visitors can also get to know the reality of Lithuanian animal farms' conditions."

Three Little Pigs

"Three piglets" is the first farm animal sanctuary in Lithuania and the Baltic states. It is a place where animals rescued from slaughter, farms and bad living conditions get full time care. "Three Piglets" sanctuary is not exploiting animals in any form. Rescued animals live freely, they can interact with their kind and enjoy human attention.
