

The Global Economy – Environment, Development and Globalization Autumn 2018

Course Reading

This document is posted online before the course start so that students may purchase or acquire course books in time for the course start.

Course literature for The Global Economy: Environment, Development and Globalisation consists of a Literature Compilation and three course books.

The Literature Compilation contains articles and material from many different sources, carefully selected for each week's classes and activities. The three course books will be read in the standard way from start to finish.

The Literature Compilation will be made available to you online on the GEC Course Page.

The books can be ordered online at Adlibris or Bokus \(links below\), and may also be available at Akadamibokhandeln or Studentbokhandeln. We recommend you order course books as soon as possible, to ensure you have them when the course begins – especially if ordering online. Some of them may be available either at Ekonomikum or Geocentrum libraries (check online for availability).

The three course books are listed here and will be read in that order. You can order them by clicking the links:

- Michael Goodwin, Economix: How Our Economy Works (and Doesn't Work), in Words and Pictures (2012)
<http://www.bokus.com/bok/9780810988392/economix/>
- Joseph Stiglitz, Making Globalization Work (2007)
<http://www.bokus.com/bok/9780141024967/making-globalization-work-pb/>
- Kate Raworth, Doughnut Economics: Seven Ways to Think Like a 21st-Century Economist (2017)
<https://www.bokus.com/bok/9781847941381/doughnut-economics/>

There will always be two-three copies of each book available in the CEMUS library (which cannot be loaned or taken home). Please be considerate of your fellow students and share appropriately since we expect around 30 students to attend the course.

Happy reading!

Guy Finkill and Aaron Tuckey– Course Coordinators